

Literary Notices.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for September is brimfull of good things. There are many bright and interesting stories by first-class writers, and the following articles are fine: "A Chat from Havana," "Early California," "The Wreck of the Elbe," "The Factory Towns of England," and "Mishaps and Mysteries of the Sea."

The September Ladies' Home Journal contains the conclusion of the delightful story, "Love before Breakfast," by Frank Stockton, "Some Discussions of the Summer Girl," "Our Schools and Teachers" by Edward Bok, "Compulsion in Child Training" by Dr. Parkhurst, and many excellent hints concerning the home, its furnishings, etc., and an exceedingly helpful department telling very fully of the coming fall and winter fabrics and fashions.

Scribner's Magazine for September opens with another of Andrews' valuable historical papers on "The Last Quarter Century in the United States." Following this comes "Country Clubs and Hunt Clubs in America," "Au Large," an excellently written article upon Canadian life and scenery; "The Art of Living," a keen satire by Robert Grant, and two good pieces of fiction.

We are in receipt of a letter from Rev. D. B. Farmer, written at Dexter, Maine, in which he says he expects to return to his work in Florida in October.

The Jacksonville Metropolis has put in type-setting machines, and is now one of the neatest, as well as newsiest, papers in the state. The "Little Met." always keeps up with the procession.

It is reported that Rev. A. W. Lamar, who has many friends in Ocala, has resigned the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Galveston on account of failing health. He contemplates moving to Chattanooga, Tenn., and giving his time to lecturing and evangelistic work.

Dr. E. F. Brown, we regret to say, contemplates transferring his residence and practice from Ocala to Jacksonville. As a physician and a citizen, the doctor is a man whose place will be hard to fill. His many wonderful cures, his straight-forward life and numerous unostentatious deeds of charity have won for him a high place in the esteem of the people of Ocala.

We are glad to note that the local option election in DeSoto county last week resulted in the county going dry by a large majority. This shows what good people can do when they are united and determined. There is no county in the state where the rum power held stronger sway than in DeSoto. Let the temperance people of Ocala and Marion county be encouraged by this victory.

D. L. Moody, the world-renowned evangelist, has accepted an invitation to hold a series of meetings in Atlanta during the exposition. A tabernacle with seating capacity for several thousand will be erected for his use. With thousands of others, we are glad to see that the managers of the exposition have abolished the bull fights and are now giving their influence to the introduction of Mr. Moody, who always brings with him showers of spiritual blessings. We hope the Christian people of the land will attend the exposition en masse, and while in Atlanta will take time to hear the great preacher.
